

LUDWIG-MAXIMILIANS-
UNIVERSITÄT
MÜNCHEN

LMU Latin America Network Online Dialogues

Latin American scientists from diverse disciplines discuss with their partners at LMU Munich how the Covid 19 pandemic has impacted their academic fields and which challenges societies and academic communities are facing at the moment. Join us at the LMU Latin America Network Online Dialogues to find out how partnership and collaboration can help us to develop innovative approaches!

Please register for the free events at:

www.lmu.de/international/lateinamerika

- 28 October 2021
2:30 – 4 p.m. (CET) Environment and indigenous communities in Latin America - lessons learned
- 10 November 2021
7 – 8:30 p.m. (CET)
Covid 19 pandemic: Implications for health care, medical research and teaching in Latin America and at LMU
- 23 November 2021
7 – 8:30 p.m. (CET)
Covid – gender – care – social inequality in Latin America and Europe
- 9 December 2021
3 – 4:30 p.m. (CET)
Cultures of knowledge and evidence: How has the Covid 19 pandemic impacted the roles of knowledge, experts and evidence?

The LMU Latin America Network was set up by researchers at LMU with the support of the International Office to facilitate collaborations in the areas of research, teaching and capacity building with partners based in Latin America.